

REMARKS

The specification has been amended to amend continuity information. No new matter has been introduced.

This application was filed as a U.S. National Phase under 35 U.S.C. §371 of International application No. PCT/US2005/014107. That PCT application claimed priority from U.S. Application No. 10/832,464 (see e.g. priority claim on page 4 of form PCT/RO/101 filed with this application on November 2, 2005). In view of co-pendency, the preliminary amendment filed with this application also listed the 10/832,464 as a parent application (e.g. for purposes of 35 U.S.C. § 120).

The cross-reference section of the specification is amended above to expressly reference PCT/US2005/014107.

The declaration as filed in this application referenced the 10/832,464 application although it and the preliminary amendment included a typographical error as to the filing date of that application. A substitute declaration is enclosed herewith showing the correct filing date and the status of that application as now patented, and the cross-reference to the 10/832,464 application is corrected above. An executed copy of the substitute declaration will be filed shortly.

It is noted that the 10/832,464 application is a continuation in part of an earlier application. However, the PCT application and this application relate to subject matter first newly disclosed in the 10/832,464 application, therefore the PCT application and this application do not claim priority from the earlier filing. However, it is believed that the subject matter claimed in this application is supported by the PCT application and the 10/832,464 application, therefore this application is entitled to claim priority through the PCT application to US application 10/832,464.

Application No. 10/555,094

It is respectfully requested that Applicants receive an official acknowledgement of the priority claims with respect to both the PCT application and the US 10/832,464 application and that any patent that may issue from the present application show an earliest priority date of April 27, 2004.

Respectfully submitted,

McDERMOTT WILL & EMERY LLP
